

STANFORD GLOBAL STUDIES

Stanford Global Studies (SGS) supports research and teaching in the cultures and societies of the world, and studies the problems facing developing societies as they seek to end their poverty and social and economic inequalities. SGS promotes new centers of teaching excellence in traditional areas of historical and cultural concerns, as well as promoting interdisciplinary activities related to developing new ideas for dealing with fundamental issues of justice, equality, and growth within nation states, cultures, and regions.

Stanford Global Studies is comprised of research centers, degree granting programs, and religion and cultural centers: Center for African Studies*; Center for East Asian Studies*; The Europe Center; Center for Latin American Studies*; Center for Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies*; Center for South Asia; Ford Dorsey Program in International Policy Studies*; France-Stanford Center for Interdisciplinary Studies; Hamid and Christina Moghadam Program in Iranian Studies; Mediterranean Studies Forum; Program in International Relations*; Sohaib and Sara Abbasi Program in Islamic Studies; Taube Center for Jewish Studies; and the WSD HANDA Center for Human Rights and International Justice.

Degree granting programs are denoted with an asterisk (*).

Center for African Studies

Director: Richard Roberts
Office: 100 Encina Commons
Web Site: <http://africanstudies.stanford.edu>

The Center for African Studies (CAS) is an interdisciplinary research program. CAS offers a certificate and a Master of Arts (M.A.) degree, in addition to a specialization in African Studies as part of the Global Studies Minor (<https://sgs.stanford.edu/programs-centers/global-studies-minor>). ## Center for East Asian Studies

Director: Jun Uchida
Office: Knight Building, 521 Memorial Way
Web Site: <http://ceas.stanford.edu>

The Center for East Asian Studies (CEAS) supports teaching and research on East Asia-related topics across all disciplines; disseminates knowledge about East Asia through projects of local, regional, national, and international scope; and serves as the intellectual gathering point for a collaborative and innovative community of scholars and students of East Asia. CEAS works with all schools, departments, research centers, and student groups to facilitate and enhance all aspects of East Asia-related research, teaching, outreach, and exchange across the Stanford campus.

For further information, see the "East Asian Studies (<http://exploreddegrees.stanford.edu/schoolofhumanitiesandsciences/eastasianstudies>)" section of this bulletin.

The Europe Center

Director: Kenneth Scheve
Office: Encina Central C243
Web Site: <http://europe.stanford.edu>

The Europe Center is a multidisciplinary institute committed to the examination of European society, culture, politics, diplomacy, and security. The program also offers a specialization in European Studies as part of the Global Studies Minor (<https://sgs.stanford.edu/programs-centers/global-studies-minor>).

Center for Latin American Studies

Director: Alberto Díaz-Cayeros
Office: Bolivar House
Web Site: <http://las.stanford.edu>

The Center for Latin American Studies at Stanford University (CLAS) is a National Resource Center dedicated to promoting research and community awareness about issues affecting Latin America. The Center offers a master's degree, in addition to a specialization in Latin American Studies as part of the Global Studies Minor (<https://sgs.stanford.edu/programs-centers/global-studies-minor>).

For further information, see the "Center for Latin American Studies (<http://exploreddegrees.stanford.edu/schoolofhumanitiesandsciences/latinamericanstudies>)" section of this bulletin.

Center for Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies

Director: Pavle Levi
Office: Encina Hall West, second floor
Web Site: <http://creees.stanford.edu>

The Center for Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies (CREEES) offers a one-year master's program in interdisciplinary area studies.

For further information, see the "Center for Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies (<http://exploreddegrees.stanford.edu/schoolofhumanitiesandsciences/russianeasteuropeanandeurasianstudies>)" section of this bulletin.

Center for South Asia

Director: Thomas Blom Hansen
Office: Encina Hall West, first floor
Web Site: <http://southasia.stanford.edu>

The Center for South Asia (CSA) serves to coordinate and develop Stanford's resources for the study of South Asia across all the disciplines in the School of Humanities and Sciences. It works closely with departments and other units of the University to increase faculty strength, support research, enhance the curriculum, build the library collection, and sponsor programs and events. The program also offers a specialization in South Asian Studies as part of the Global Studies Minor (<https://sgs.stanford.edu/programs-centers/global-studies-minor>).

Ford Dorsey Program In International Policy Studies

Director: Kathryn Stoner
Office: Encina Hall West, second floor
Web Site: <http://ips.stanford.edu>

The Ford Dorsey Program in International Policy Studies (IPS) is a two-year master's program that seeks to train the next generation of policy analysts to solve key global problems.

For further information, see the "International Policy Studies (<http://exploreddegrees.stanford.edu/schoolofhumanitiesandsciences/internationalpolicystudies>)" section of this bulletin.

France-Stanford Center For Interdisciplinary Studies

Director: Amalia Kessler

Office: Building 260, room 122
 Web Site: <http://francestanford.stanford.edu>

The France-Stanford Center for Interdisciplinary Studies, founded in partnership with the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs, aims to bridge the disciplines of the humanities, social sciences, sciences, engineering, business, and law, addressing historical and contemporary issues of significance for France and the United States. The Center brings together Stanford faculty and students and academics in France to advance collaborative research and foster interdisciplinary inquiry. Its programs include conferences, support for collaborative research projects, internships, exchanges, lectures, and seminars.

Hamid and Christina Moghadam Program In Iranian Studies

Director: Abbas Milani
 Office: Encina Hall West, second floor
 Web Site: <http://iranian-studies.stanford.edu>

The Hamid and Christina Moghadam Program in Iranian Studies at Stanford fosters the interdisciplinary study of Iran as a civilization, one of the oldest in the world. The program combines pedagogy, policy analysis, and research on all aspects of Iran's past, present, and future. The program organizes lectures and student research conferences on Iran. The program also offers a specialization in Iranian Studies as part of the Global Studies Minor (<https://sgs.stanford.edu/programs-centers/global-studies-minor>).

Mediterranean Studies Forum

Director: Shahzad Bashir
 Office: Encina Hall West, Room 214
 Web Site: <http://mediterraneanstudies.stanford.edu>

The Mediterranean Studies Forum encourages scholars to explore the interplay among societies, cultures, and communities around the Mediterranean Basin from the Middle Ages to the present. Its focus is on all aspects of co-existence and conflict that have marked these encounters in the empires, port cities, nation states, and transregional and transnational social, religious, cultural, and economic contexts of North Africa, Anatolia, the Levant, the Balkans, and Southern Europe. It is also interested in the relations of the Mediterranean with other regions and areas of the world. The central goal of the forum is to contribute to interfield and interdisciplinary dialogue among scholars of these areas through lectures, colloquia, workshops, conferences, and publications. Particular programming fields include Turkish Studies and Sephardic Studies.

Program in International Relations

Director: Mike Tomz
 Office: Encina Hall West, second floor

Sohaib and Sara Abbasi Program in Islamic Studies

Director: Shahzad Bashir
 Office: Encina Hall West, Room 214

Web Site: <http://islamicstudies.stanford.edu>

The mission of the Sohaib and Sara Abbasi Program in Islamic Studies is to serve as a forum for interdisciplinary research and teaching in Islamic studies, complemented by seminars, colloquia and public lectures. The program seeks to illuminate Islamic history from its beginnings to the 21st century, the religion of Islam in its many aspects, and the diversity of Muslim cultures and societies, past and present, not only in the Middle East but also including South and Southeast Asia, Africa, Europe, and America. In addition to geographical breadth, the program promotes the use of scholarly resources from both the humanities and the social sciences. Participating faculty and students bring perspectives and methods from academic fields including anthropology, art, economics, history, international relations, languages, law, literature, philosophy, political science, and religious studies. The program offers student grants for research and language training. The program also offers a specialization in Islamic Studies as part of the Global Studies Minor (<https://sgs.stanford.edu/programs-centers/global-studies-minor>).

Taube Center For Jewish Studies

Director: Charlotte Fonrobert
 Office: Building 360, Room 362H
 Web Site: <http://jewishstudies.stanford.edu>

The interdisciplinary Taube Center for Jewish Studies coordinates and promotes the study of all aspects of Jewish life. The center offers an undergraduate minor and an interdisciplinary major through the Center for Comparative Studies in Race and Ethnicity (<http://ccsre/undergrad/undergraduate-programs-ccsre>).

For further information, see the "Jewish Studies (<http://exploreddegrees.stanford.edu/schoolofhumanitiesandsciences/jewishstudies/>)" section of this bulletin.

WSD HANDA Center for Human Rights and International Justice

Director: David Cohen
 Office: Encina Hall West, Room 208
 Web Site: <https://handacenter.stanford.edu/>

The WSD HANDA Center for Human Rights and International Justice is dedicated to promoting the rule of law, accountability, and human rights around the world through education, critical scholarship, and policy advocacy. The Center offers an undergraduate minor.

For further information, see the "Human Rights (<http://exploreddegrees.stanford.edu/schoolofhumanitiesandsciences/humanrights/#text>)" section of this bulletin.

Minor in Global Studies

The minor in Global Studies is designed to give students an in-depth interdisciplinary study in one of six specializations within a larger global perspective.

Global Studies is centered on the interdisciplinary study of regions and their intersecting cultures, languages, history, politics, and societies. Historically, Global (or Area) Studies have sought ways to understand the distinctiveness of cultures and nations by applying the combined knowledge from the social sciences and humanities to their study. This approach was further developed during World War II and the Cold War to be able to understand both American allies and enemies.

Today, Global Studies examine regions and cultures within the larger context of globalization. It applies more branches of knowledge, from human biology and earth sciences to music and management engineering, to better understand the character of regions, their respective developmental trajectories, and the way those trajectories fit into a larger global context.

Each student chooses one of the six specializations. The specialization appears on the transcript but it does not appear on the diploma.

Admission

Students from any major interested in applying for admission to the Global Studies minor program should consult the relevant center adviser, or Executive Director of Stanford Global Studies <kkuhns@stanford.edu>. To declare the Global Studies minor with one of six specializations, students must:

1. Set up an appointment with the appropriate specialization adviser (see appropriate specialization page for contact information).
2. Declare the Global Studies minor in Axess (<http://axess.stanford.edu>).
3. Complete the Declaration or Change of Undergraduate Major, Minor, Honors, or Degree Program (https://studentaffairs.stanford.edu/sites/default/files/registrar/files/change\_UG\_program.pdf) form in order to declare the specialization. Submit the form to the specialization adviser as noted on the relevant tab in this section of this bulletin.

Minor in Global Studies with African Studies Specialization

The minor in Global Studies, African Studies specialization, offers students the opportunity to complement their major course of study with an in-depth, interdisciplinary exploration of the cultures, histories, politics, religions, and societies of Africa.

Students from any major interested in applying for admission to this minor program should consult the minor adviser at the Center for African Studies. Students declare the minor and the African Studies specialization in Axess (<http://axess.stanford.edu>) (see below for detailed instructions).

Students consult with their minor adviser to develop individual programs. The minor is especially well-suited for undergraduates who plan to make service, research, or study abroad in Africa as part of their Stanford experience.

Declaring the Global Studies Minor with African Studies Specialization

To declare the Global Studies minor with African Studies specialization, students must:

1. Set up an appointment with Laura Hubbard, <lhubbard@stanford.edu>, Associate Director for the Center for African Studies.
2. Declare the Global Studies minor in Axess (<http://axess.stanford.edu>).
3. Complete the Declaration or Change of Undergraduate Major, Minor, Honors, or Degree Program (https://studentaffairs.stanford.edu/sites/default/files/registrar/files/change\_UG\_program.pdf) form in order to declare the African Studies specialization. Submit the form to the minor adviser, Laura Hubbard, in the Center for African Studies office (Encina Hall West, Room 219, 417 Galvez Mall).

Learning Outcomes

The SGS minor specialization in African Studies enables students to:

1. develop critical knowledge and skills in African Studies

2. organize their interest in Africa into a coherent course of study through directed mentorship and participation in intellectual community.
3. prepare for research, study, or service in Africa

Upon completion of requirements, final certification of the minor is made by the Center for African Studies. The minor and the specialization appear on the transcript but they do not appear on the diploma.

Requirements

1. A minimum of 25 units of Africa-related courses. Students may not double-count courses for completing major and minor requirements.
2. GLOBAL 101 Global Studies Gateway Course (3 units)
3. At least one quarter's exposure to a sub-Saharan African language. The Center for African Studies (<http://exploreddegrees.stanford.edu/schoolofhumanitiesandsciences/africanstudies>) and the Special Languages Program of the Language Center (<http://exploreddegrees.stanford.edu/schoolofhumanitiesandsciences/languagecenter>) can arrange instruction in any of several languages spoken in West, East, Central, and Southern Africa.
4. One entry level course that covers more than one region of Africa.
5. A designated focus of study, either disciplinary or regional, through a three course concentration developed with the minor adviser.
6. A minimum 25-page research paper, with a focus on Africa. This paper may be an extension of a previous paper written for an African Studies course. Other approaches to fulfilling the capstone requirement may be accepted with the approval of the Director of African Studies.
  - Students present their work in an end-of-year capstone seminar with other SGS minors and led by SGS faculty.

Course List

For a representative, rather than comprehensive, list of courses that count towards the minor, see the Related Courses tab in this section of the Bulletin. Other courses may also fulfill the requirements; students should consult their African Studies minor adviser concerning which courses might fulfill minor requirements.

Courses

GLOBAL 101. Global Studies Gateway Course. 3 Units.

Gateway course for students wishing to pursue a Global Studies minor in one of six specializations: African, European, Islamic, Iranian, Latin American, and South Asian Studies.

GLOBAL 105. Perspectives on Human Rights Theory and Practice. 3 Units.

In this introductory human rights course, students will learn about how the distinct methodologies, assumptions, and vocabulary of particular disciplinary communities affect the way scholars and practitioners trained in these fields approach, understand, and employ human rights concepts. Course sessions will include guest lectures from distinguished Stanford faculty from across the university.

GLOBAL 190. Illicit Trade in Art and Antiquities. 3 Units.

Illicit trade in art and antiquities is reputedly the third largest illicit trade activity globally. How do nations, individually and collectively, respond to this seemingly inexorable form of illicit trade, and what factors influence those responses? What are the sources and effects of such trade, and how can it best be curbed? This course will delve into these and other pressing political, legal, ethical, economic, cultural and public policy questions about illicit art and antiquities trade, arising across five subject areas: (1) the acquisition of art during the Age of Imperialism (ie, from Roman times through World War II); (2) Holocaust-era takings and the evolution in international legal and ethical responses to wartime looting; (3) removal and repatriation of Indigenous cultural material; (4) theft from museums and private collectors, and legal systems' varying allocation of the risk of such theft; and (5) the illicit trade and destruction of antiquities, and issues surrounding their restitution. Several internationally renowned guest speakers will give presentations and contribute to our discussions. Grading will be based on attendance, participation in class and an online discussion forum, a student group presentation, and a final exam or research paper. Same as: GLOBAL 390, JEWISHST 130, JEWISHST 330, PUBLPOL 191, PUBLPOL 391

GLOBAL 191. Undergraduate Directed Reading. 1-5 Unit.

Independent studies for graduate students under the direction of a faculty member for which academic credit may properly be allowed. May be repeat for credit.

GLOBAL 199. Capstone Project: Global Studies Minor. 1-5 Unit.

Students completing a required capstone project for the Global Studies Minor must enroll in this course for units (1-5) with their capstone advisor selected as the instructor. The course may be repeated for credit, with advisor approval. Students are expected to participate in regular advising meetings with the instructor, and may be expected to give a final presentation on their project at an end-of-the-quarter Global Studies Minor symposium. May be repeat for credit.

GLOBAL 220. American Foreign Policy: Interests, Values, and Process. 5 Units.

This seminar will examine the tension in American foreign policy between pursuing U.S. security and economic interests and promoting American values abroad. The course will retrace the theoretical and ideological debates about values versus interests, with a particular focus on realism versus liberalism. The course will examine the evolution of these debates over time, starting with the French revolution, but with special attention given to the Cold War, American foreign policy after September 11th, and the Obama administration. The course also will examine how these contending theories and ideologies are mediated through the U.S. bureaucracy that shapes the making of foreign policy. ** NOTE: The enrollment of the class is by application only. Please provide a one page double-spaced document outlining previous associated coursework and why you want to enroll in the seminar to Anna Coll (acoll@stanford.edu) by February 22nd. Any questions related to this course can be directed to Anna Coll.

Same as: IPS 242, POLISCI 217A

GLOBAL 249A. The Iranian Cinema: Image and Meaning. 1-3 Unit.

This course will focus on the analysis of ten Iranian films with the view of conducting a discourse on the semiotics of Iranian art and culture. Each session will be designated to the viewing of a film by a prominent Iranian filmmaker. Students are expected to prepare for class by having previously examined other available films by the filmmaker under consideration.

Same as: COMPLIT 249A

GLOBAL 249B. Iranian Cinema in Diaspora. 1-3 Unit.

Despite enormous obstacles, immigrant Iranian filmmakers, within a few decades (after the Iranian Revolution), have created a slow but steady stream of films outside Iran. They were originally started by individual spontaneous attempts from different corners of the world and by now we can identify common lines of interest amongst them. There are also major differences between them. These films have never been allowed to be screened inside Iran, and without any support from the global system of production and distribution, as independent and individual attempts, they have enjoyed little attention. Despite all this, Iranian cinema in exile is in no sense any less important than Iranian cinema inside Iran. In this course we will view one such film, made outside Iran, in each class meeting and expect to reach a common consensus in identifying the general patterns within these works and this movement. Questions such as the ones listed below will be addressed in our meetings each week: What changes in aesthetics and point of view of the filmmaker are caused by the change in his or her work environment? Though unwisely these films are made outside Iran, how related are they to the known (recognized) cinema within Iran? And in fact, to what extent do these films express things that are left unsaid by the cinema within Iran?. Same as: COMPLIT 249B

GLOBAL 249C. Contemporary Iranian Theater. 1-3 Unit.

Today, Iranian plays, both in traditional and contemporary styles, are staged in theater festivals throughout the world and play their role in forming a universal language of theater which combine the heritages from countries in all five continents. Despite many obstacles, some Iranian plays have been translated into English and some prominent Iranian figures are successful stage directors outside Iran. Forty-six years ago when "Theater in Iran" (a monograph on the history of Iranian plays) by Bahram Beyzaie was first published, it put the then contemporary Iranian theater movement, which was altogether westernizing itself blindly, face to face with a new kind of self-awareness. Hence, today's generation of playwrights and stage directors in Iran, all know something of their theatrical heritage. In this course we will spend some class sessions on the history of theater in Iran and some class meetings will be concentrating on contemporary movements and present day playwrights. Given the dearth of visual documents, an attempt will be made to present a picture of Iranian theater to the student. Students are expected to read the recommended available translated plays of the contemporary Iranian playwrights and participate in classroom discussions. NOTE: This course must be taken for a minimum of 3 units and a letter grade to be eligible for Ways credit.

GLOBAL 250. Bollywood and Beyond: An Introduction to Indian Film. 3-5 Units.

A broad engagement with Indian cinema: its relationship with Indian politics, history, and economics; its key thematic concerns and forms; and its adaptation of and response to global cinematic themes, genres, and audiences. Locating the films within key critical and theoretical debates and scholarship on Indian and world cinemas. Goal is to open up what is often seen as a dauntingly complex region, especially for those who are interested in but unfamiliar with its histories and cultural forms. Same as: COMPLIT 247, FILMSTUD 250B

GLOBAL 390. Illicit Trade in Art and Antiquities. 3 Units.

Illicit trade in art and antiquities is reputedly the third largest illicit trade activity globally.
