

STANFORD IN NEW YORK

Stanford in New York presents students with distinctive opportunities for engagement within one of the world's most dynamic cities. Through an intensive academic quarter of study, reflective practice, and experiential learning in New York, students hone their intellectual skills and capacities, develop their abilities as adaptive learners, and enlarge their creative confidence.

Stanford in New York features guided internships in fields such as the arts, urban studies, media, and finance for which New York offers unparalleled opportunities. Through supportive mentoring, participants translate their academic knowledge and skills into potential career paths.

The program is offered during the following quarters:

- Autumn, Winter, and Spring quarters

Areas of study for both course work and internships are organized by quarter.

- Autumn Quarter focus: The Arts, Architecture, Design, and Urban studies
- Winter Quarter focus: Finance and Media
- Spring Quarter: The Global City

Program Director: Rosina Miller

Faculty-in-Residence: Autumn Quarter: Maurice Rush Rehm. Winter Quarter: Jonathan Berger. Spring Quarter: Jamie Meltzer.

Program Faculty: Autumn Quarter: Arthur Cohen, Nina Freedman, Danielle Jackson, Julie Orringer

Winter Quarter: Tony Haile, Bill Grueskin, Danielle Jackson, Mark Oldman, Allen Thorpe

Spring Quarter: tba