The Stanford Language Center oversees all language instruction at Stanford. The center’s charge is to guarantee that Stanford language programs are of the highest quality; to develop and administer achievement and proficiency tests needed to implement the language requirement; to provide technical assistance and support to the graduate students, lecturers, and faculty who deliver Stanford’s language instruction; and to take leadership in research and development efforts in language learning. The Language Center is a unit within the Division of Literatures, Cultures, and Languages (http://exploredegrees.stanford.edu/schoolofhumanitiesandsciences/divisionofliteraturesculturesandlanguages/#text).

Courses
Courses offered by the Language Center are listed under the following subject codes on the Stanford Bulletin’s ExploreCourses website:

- AMELANG (African and Middle Eastern Languages and Literatures)
- CATLANG (Catalan Language)
- CHINLANG (Chinese Language)
- EFSLANG (English for Foreign Students)
- FRENLANG (French Language)
- GERLANG (German Language)
- ITALLANG (Italian Language)
- JAPANLNG (Japanese Language)
- KORLANG (Korean Language)
- PORTLANG (Portuguese Language)
- SLAVLANG (Slavic Language)
- SPANLANG (Spanish Language)
- SPECLANG (Special Language)
- TIBETLNG (Tibetan Language)

Beginning-Level, First-Year Courses
Beginning-level, first-year language courses require no previous knowledge of the language. The beginning-level sequence emphasizes development of the full range of language skills, reading, listening comprehension, the use of grammatical structures, and oral and written communication, through a variety of learning themes. Individual, small group, interactive work and multimedia activities reinforce language skills and provide the platform for adapting the curriculum to specific student learning goals. Cultural awareness is a strong component of the curriculum.

Intermediate-Level, Second-Year Courses
Intermediate-level, second-year language courses require completion of the beginning sequence, corresponding placement or consent of the program coordinator. The intermediate-level sequence focuses on continuous mastery and development of skills that help students to converse and present accurately and more fluently, incorporate more advanced grammatical structures in their oral and written work, use idiomatic expressions in the right context, and read and write more sophisticated compositions. Curricular objectives and enhanced cultural understanding are built into the courses through a multimodal approach.

Advanced-Level, Third-Year Courses
Advanced-level, third-year language courses require completion of the intermediate-year sequence, corresponding placement, or consent of the program coordinator. The advanced-level sequence focuses on accurate understanding and use of structures through authentic texts and multimedia materials, and readings from various genres. Individual learning goals and student proficiency are taken into account to provide a learning environment that helps students become more autonomous learners.

Proficiency in Foreign Language Notation
A student who demonstrates levels of achievement equivalent to those expected at the end of the third quarter of the third year of study in a language may be awarded the notation "proficiency in" that language on the official transcript. Successful candidates tend to have completed the third year or beyond of language study at Stanford and spent considerable time studying abroad in the foreign language.

In order to receive the proficiency notation and for it to appear on the official transcript, the student must complete the following oral and written requirements according to the timeline below. The notation is available only for languages where external assessment is offered through Language Testing International. Successful completion of the oral component is required before proceeding with the written component.

Both oral and written components must be completed no later than the quarter preceding the graduating quarter.

For more information visit https://language.stanford.edu/ or contact languagecenter@stanford.edu.

Application and Oral Component: Two quarters prior to graduation
1. Notify the Language Center via email of the intent to pursue the notation and request an official Oral Proficiency Interview (OPI). Since this is a formal interview conducted according to national academic and professional standards, at least two quarters of lead time are essential for scheduling.
2. Complete the 30-minute Oral Proficiency Interview as scheduled through the Language Center and conducted by a certified OPI tester. The interview must take place no later than one quarter prior to graduation and be administered on campus.
3. Receive an official rating of Advanced Low or higher on the Foreign Service Institute/American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (FSI/ACTFL) scale of oral proficiency, except in the non-cognate languages which require a minimum rating of Intermediate High. Students who do not meet the minimum level for the notation will nonetheless receive an official OPI rating, which carries national recognition of their oral proficiency.

Writing Component: One quarter prior to graduation
1. Once approved to continue with the writing component, schedule a Writing Proficiency Test (WPT) through the Language Center. As an official writing assessment, the 90-minute exam must take place no later than one quarter prior to graduation and as soon as possible after the interview. The WPT is administered on campus and rated by a certified WPT rater.
2. Receive an official rating of Advanced Low or higher on the Foreign Service Institute/American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (FSI/ACTFL) scale of writing proficiency, except in the non-cognate languages which require a minimum rating of Intermediate High. Students who do not meet the minimum level for the notation will nonetheless receive an official WPT rating, which carries national recognition of their writing proficiency.

Proficiency Notation Timetable
2. Graduating Autumn: Apply Winter; interview Winter/Spring; writing Spring.
3. Graduating Winter: Apply Spring; interview Spring/Autumn; writing Autumn.

Overseas Studies Courses in the Language Center

For course descriptions and additional offerings, see the listings in the Stanford Bulletin’s ExploreCourses (http://explorecourses.stanford.edu) web site or the Bing Overseas Studies (http://bosp.stanford.edu) web site. Students should consult their department or program’s student services office for applicability of Overseas Studies courses to a major or minor program.

African and Middle Eastern Languages and Literatures Program

The African and Middle Eastern Languages and Literatures Program offers classes in Hebrew, Persian, Swahili, Turkish, and African languages not regularly taught at Stanford. Based on current funding and student requests, the courses planned for the 2019-20 academic year are listed in the ExploreCourses (http://explorecourses.stanford.edu) section of this Bulletin under the AMELANG program. Additional languages may still be offered upon request, provided funding is available. Requests for the 2020-21 academic year should be made by Spring Quarter of this year to the AME program office by email to khalili@stanford.edu (ebernhar@stanford.edu).

First-, second-, and third-year each refer to the yearly sequence of language study. Letter suffixes refer to the quarter within the sequence: "A" courses (1st Quarter) are typically taught in Autumn; "B" courses (2nd Quarter), in Winter; and "C" courses (3rd Quarter) in Spring. In some circumstances, a beginning or intermediate course may be offered in alternate years. Language courses may not be repeated for credit, and must be taken in sequence.

Fulfilling the Language Requirement in AME

Students can fulfill the language requirement by taking an African or Middle Eastern language. At least 12 units are needed to complete the requirement. Students who have taken courses in the relevant language at another institution, or who have previous knowledge of the language, can request to be tested. Tests are comprised of written and oral parts. A student must display completion of first-year level proficiency in the requested language in order to fulfill the requirement. Testing is guaranteed only for these languages currently offered. Students planning to take a test must contact the Special Language Program no later than the Spring Quarter of sophomore year. To submit a request for language testing, or to request that a language be taught, and for further information on the program, contact the Special Language Program office (eprionas@stanford.edu). (eprionas@stanford.edu)

Special Language Program

The Special Language Program (SLP) offers foreign languages not otherwise taught at Stanford. Based on current funding and student requests, the courses planned for the 2019-20 academic year are listed in the ExploreCourses (http://explorecourses.stanford.edu) section of this Bulletin under the Special Languages (SPECLANG) Program; however, not every course listed is taught. Additional languages may still be offered upon request, provided funding is available. Requests for the 2020-21 academic year should be made by Spring Quarter of this year at the Special Language Program office (eprionas@stanford.edu).

First-year courses are offered for 4 or 5 units, as listed. First-, second-, and third-year each refer to the yearly sequence of language study. Letter suffixes refer to the quarter within the sequence: "A" courses (1st Quarter) are typically taught in Autumn; "B" courses (2nd Quarter), in Winter; and "C" courses (3rd Quarter) in Spring. In some circumstances, a beginning or intermediate course may be offered in alternate years. Language courses may not be repeated for credit, and must be taken in sequence. For additional information, see the Special Language Program (http://www.stanford.edu/dept/SLP) website.

Fulfilling the Language Requirement in Special Language Program

Students can fulfill the language requirement by taking courses offered by the Special Language Program. At least 12 units are needed to complete the requirement. Students who have already taken courses in the relevant language at another institution, or who have previous knowledge of the language, can request to be tested. Tests are comprised of written and oral parts. A student must display completion of first-year level proficiency in the requested language in order to fulfill the requirement. Testing is guaranteed only for these languages currently offered. Students planning to take a test must contact the Special Language Program no later than the Spring Quarter of sophomore year. To submit a request for language testing, or to request that a language be taught, and for further information on the program, contact the Special Language Program office (eprionas@stanford.edu). Minors in the Division of Literatures, Cultures, and Languages (DLCL)

The Division of Literatures, Cultures, and Languages (http://exploredegrees.stanford.edu/schoolofhumanitiesandsciences/divisionofliteraturesculturesandlanguages/#text), of which the Language Center is a part, offers the following minors that may be of interest to foreign language students. For more information, consult the contact specified in the relevant minor following.

Minor in Modern Languages

Faculty Director: Dan Edelstein

The Division of Literatures, Cultures, and Languages offers an undergraduate minor in Modern Languages that permits students to demonstrate strength in two distinct modern languages and their literatures. The minor draws upon courses housed within the DLCL, East Asian Languages and Cultures, the Stanford Language Center, and the Special Language Program.

Declaring the Minor

Students declare the minor in Modern Languages through Axess. The minor program is administered by the DLCL undergraduate student support office located in Pigott Hall, room 128 and may be contacted at odunlop@stanford.edu. Plans for completing the minor must be approved by through the student support office.

Minor Program

- Students enrolled in the Modern Languages minor must take 6 courses of 3 units or more, for a total of 22 units minimum.
- Students will study two modern languages, Language A and Language B.
  - Language A: two intermediate-level or higher courses, for 8 units minimum, and one literature course of 3-5 units.
  - Language B: two intermediate-level or higher courses, for 8 units minimum, and one literature course of 3-5 units.

Requirements

- Stanford Language Center courses and BOSP language courses must be second-year level or beyond.
- Literature courses from BOSP programs are pre-approved for the minor.
• Literature courses taught by Stanford faculty (Academic Council members) will be approved with permission of the Program Administrator.
• Literature courses for Language A and/or B may be taught in translation.
• Language courses may not include conversational, oral communication, business, or medical language courses.
• Advanced Placement and transfer credits may not be applied to the minor.
• All courses must be taken for a letter grade.
• Coursework may not duplicate work counted toward other majors or minors. By University policy, no more than 36 units may be required in this minor.

Minor in Translation Studies

Faculty Director: Alexander Key

Minor Adviser: Cintia Santana

The Division of Literatures, Cultures, and Languages, in cooperation with East Asian Languages and Cultures and the English Department, teaches undergraduates to develop and apply their foreign language knowledge to the production and analysis of translations. The minor is designed to give students majoring in a variety of fields the tools to consider the practical and theoretical issues brought up by translation as an aesthetic, cultural, and ethical practice.

Declaring the Minor

Students will declare the minor in Axess, and then contact the minor adviser, Cintia Santana (csantana@stanford.edu). The program is administered by the student services office located in Pigott Hall, room 128.

Requirements

Students must take a minimum of 6 courses for 3 units or more and a minimum of 23 units for a letter grade, in fulfillment of the following requirements:

<table>

Minor in Middle Eastern Languages, Literatures, and Cultures

Faculty Director: Alexander Key

The undergraduate minor in Middle Eastern Languages, Literatures, and Cultures (MELLAC) has been designed to give students majoring in a variety of departments an opportunity to gain a substantial introduction to Arabic, Hebrew, Persian, Middle Eastern, and African languages, and to the cultures and civilizations of the Middle East and Africa.

Declaring the Minor

Contact the faculty director, Alexander Key (akey@stanford.edu), before declaring the minor in Axess. The minor is administered through the undergraduate student support office in Pigott Hall, room 128.

Requirements

- 6 courses at 3 units or more must be taken for a letter grade unless only offered for faculty-elected satisfactory/no credit.
- All courses must be completed with a letter grade of ‘C’ or better.
- Coursework may not duplicate work counted toward other majors or minors.
- Students declaring the minor must do so no later than the last day of Spring Quarter of their junior year.

The minor in Middle Eastern Languages, Literatures and Cultures (MELLAC) has two tracks. Their requirements are as follows.

Minor in Middle Eastern Languages, Literatures, and Cultures, Arabic Track

The minor track requirements include:

- Completion of four ARABLANG courses at the second-year level or higher, for a total of 20 units.
- One course relating to Arabic taught with English texts, generally offered in Comparative Literature, for a total of 3-5 units.
- COMPLIT 252A Great Arabic Poetry and COMPLIT 252B Great Arabic Prose, that may be taken for 3-5 units.
- Up to 5 units of transfer credit may count towards this minor, subject to approval of the faculty director.
- Students must test for proficiency in Arabic through the Language Center by Winter Quarter of their senior year.
  - Students should minimally receive a notation of intermediate-high.
  - Those requiring outside tutoring are advised to seek resources available through the DLCL student services office in Pigott Hall 128, odunlop@gmail.com.
- All courses must be approved by the faculty director.
Minor in Middle Eastern Languages, Literatures, and Cultures, Hebrew, Persian, Turkish, or African Languages, Literatures and Cultures Track

Requirements for the minor include:

- Three language classes in Hebrew, Persian, Turkish, or an African language.
- All three courses must be in the same language and first year or beyond.
- 20 additional units from relevant literature and culture courses.
- Courses are offered through the Language Center and DLCL departments.
- One of these courses must be a (COMPLIT) Comparative Literature course.
- Other relevant courses are listed under Jewish Studies (JEWISHST), and the Center for African Studies (AFRICAST), the Stanford Language Center and DLCL.
- The faculty director may approve some upper-level language classes to count towards the 20 additional units.
- All courses must be approved by the faculty director.

Certificate in Language Program Management

Faculty Director: Elizabeth Bernhardt

Programs in contemporary foreign language teaching preparation entail a knowledge base that has grown over the past 30 years, rooted in data from an explosion of linguistic as well as applied linguistic research.

In tandem with the Language Center’s primary focus on learning research and theory, which graduate students explore in the teaching preparation program, the Language Program Management certificate focuses on developing the professional leadership and academic skills necessary for a career that includes the coordination and management of language learning.

The program funds summer internships which enable the completion of a certificate in Language Program Management and are intended to help Stanford graduate students prepare themselves for such work in complement to their literary studies. The certificate program is not declared on Axess and does not appear on the transcript or diploma.

Prerequisites

1. Foreign language acquisition: Oral Proficiency Interview (OPI) rating of at least advanced mid
2. Academic and professional development:
   - DLCL 301 The Learning and Teaching of Second Languages
   - Modified Oral Proficiency Interview (MOPI) Assessment workshop (2 days)
   - Limited OPI Tester Certification (average 6 months)
   - Teaching of three first-year language courses through the Language Center

These are generally met by the end of a graduate student’s second year in the PhD program. Once meeting these criteria, the student may be admitted to the Program.

Requirements

Upon admission to the program, students must complete the following:

1. DLCL 302 The Learning and Teaching of Second-Language Literatures: a course designed to focus student attention on the development of oral language proficiency through the upper levels and emphasize the need for upper register speaking and writing for literature learning and teaching.
2. OPI workshop (additional 2 days of training at the Advanced and Superior levels): this workshop is the extension of the MOPI. It focuses on upper register performance on the FSI-ACTFL scale. Hosted by either the Language Center, regional workshop, or at the national meeting of the ACTFL.
3. Completion of Writing Proficiency Familiarization workshop (Winter Quarter): Workshop conducted by a certified writing tester and structured in parallel to the MOPI/OPI assessment paradigm.
4. DLCL 303 Language Program Management (Summer Quarter): an administrative internship including, but not limited to, experiences with the following:
   - Shadow faculty and staff in select areas of administration and supervision within the Language Center and DLCL
   - Placement testing and student advisement
   - Technology in teaching and learning
   - Processes for teacher observation and feedback
   - Procedures in staff supervision and human resources
   - Course scheduling, budgeting, staffing, and searches
   - Interface with external programs (e.g., BOSP, Bechtel, VPTL)
