MEDIEVAL STUDIES

The Division of Literatures, Cultures, and Languages (https://exploredegrees.stanford.edu/schoolofhumanitiesandsciences/divisionofliteraturesculturesandlanguages/) offers a Medieval Studies minor in conjunction with the Stanford Center for Medieval and Early Modern Studies (CMEMS). CMEMS is a multidisciplinary community working together to produce new perspectives on medieval and early modern studies. The mission of CMEMS is to promote innovative research and foster a lively dialogue among faculty, students, librarians, and research affiliates, to rethink the nature of the field across time, space, and disciplinary boundaries, and to explore the significance of these earlier periods for our understanding of today’s world.

There are a number of programs and courses related to medieval and early modern studies. To learn more, see the center’s web site (http://cmems.stanford.edu/).

COVID-19-Related Degree Requirement Changes

Minor in Medieval Studies

Faculty Director: Marisa Galvez

The Division of Literatures, Cultures, and Languages offers an undergraduate minor in Medieval Studies. The minor in Medieval Studies:

- provides Stanford students with the historical knowledge and framework through which to view globalism;
- embeds the study of medieval culture in a coherent framework that resonates with contemporary issues of community building, the virtual world and mobility;
- and promotes an innovative cross-disciplinary and skill-based approach to Medieval Studies.

Declaring the Minor

Students should declare the minor in Medieval Studies in Axess. The undergraduate program is administered by the DLCL student services office located in Pigott Hall, room 128.

Requirements

Students in any major field qualify for the minor by meeting the following requirements:

- Students complete 6 courses courses of 3 units or more for a total of 25 units. The 6 courses must include an introductory core course taken for 5 units.
- Electives may be selected from a large number of offerings in a variety of disciplines according to student interests, but they must follow a coherent course of study. This course of study must be approved by the Undergraduate Faculty Director. Courses are relevant to the major in departments across the University including English, East Asian Studies, History, Religious Studies, Music, Comparative Literature, German, French, Italian, Iberian and Latin American Cultures, and Slavic Languages and Literatures, and Classics.
- Up to 5 units may be taken in a medieval language, such as (but not limited to) Old English, Old Norse, Medieval Latin, Old French, Middle High German, Classical Arabic.
- Appropriate courses offered through BOSP may count toward this minor.
- No transfer credit may be used toward the Medieval Studies minor, and course work in this minor may not duplicate work counted toward other majors or minors.
- Advanced placement credit and transfer credit do not apply to this minor.
- All courses must be taken for a letter grade.

Instructions:

Click on the Edit pencil to get started. Delete this "Instructions" block when you have finished editing...just click inside the blue box to select and then click delete. Do not delete the block immediately below. This block of general University information is required. Replace ENTER ANY GENERAL DEPARTMENT/PROGRAM TEXT HERE with any general department, program text, or just delete this line. This might include something generic about support, or instructions on who to contact, etc. If you have not decided what to do, replace this line with text such as "The department is in the process of making decisions concerning COVID-19 policies and will update this tab when those decisions have been made." Then delete the remaining text below as relevant. Undergraduate and graduate grading: Pick one statement and delete the others, or enter your own text. You can add to the text also, perhaps to include reference to whom the student should contact. Also, replace DEPARTMENTOrPROGRAM with the name of your own department or program, e.g., Department of Biology. Enter any additional policies under “Other...” or delete the header if there are no additional policies. When done, save, and send to workflow. Contact Stephen by Slack (arod) if you have questions, or come to our Bulletin office hours: https://asconfluence.stanford.edu/confluence/display/SASLL/Stanford+Bulletin+2020-21. Note that you will be able to edit this content as new information develops.

COVID-19 Policies

On July 30, the Academic Senate adopted grading policies effective for all undergraduate and graduate programs, excepting the professional Graduate School of Business, School of Law, and the School of Medicine M.D. Program. For a complete list of those and other academic policies relating to the pandemic, see the "COVID-19 and Academic Continuity" section of this bulletin.

The Senate decided that all undergraduate and graduate courses offered for a letter grade must also offer students the option of taking the course for a “credit” or “no credit” grade and recommended that deans, departments, and programs consider adopting local policies to count courses taken for a “credit” or “satisfactory” grade toward the fulfillment of degree-program requirements and/or alter program requirements as appropriate.

Undergraduate Degree Requirements

Grading

The Medieval Studies minor counts all courses taken in academic year 2020-21 with a grade of ‘CR’ (credit) or ‘S’ (satisfactory) towards... satisfaction of undergraduate degree requirements that otherwise require a letter grade.
