

OVERSEAS STUDIES

Bing Overseas Studies Program

The Bing Overseas Studies Program (BOSP) provides opportunities for Stanford students to broaden their undergraduate education through study in another country and exposure to its culture. Regular quarter-length programs in Australia, Berlin, Cape Town, Florence, Istanbul, Kyoto, Madrid, Oxford, Paris, and Santiago offer courses in social and natural sciences, humanities, engineering, and earth sciences with full Stanford credit. Many courses also count toward major requirements and/or fulfill University breadth requirements. Students may enroll for one or more quarters at most locations. Academic or paid internships are available at certain program locations. Research opportunities are available in various formats at different centers. Community-engaged learning and community-based research opportunities are available in Cape Town. Minimum academic and language prerequisites are specific to each program. See the BOSP (<http://bosp.stanford.edu>) website for information on these prerequisites.

In addition to the programs offered through BOSP for enrolled Stanford students, the University is a member of the Kyoto Consortium for Japanese Studies (KCJS), where students may enroll while remaining registered at Stanford. Overseas Studies also offers three-week faculty-led overseas seminars in various locations during Summer Quarter, faculty-initiated programs in Oaxaca, Mexico focusing on community health and biocultural diversity, and occasionally other programs in various locations. A quarter-length program in Hong Kong is scheduled to open in Autumn Quarter 2019-20 in partnership with The Chinese University of Hong Kong.

While studying overseas through BOSP, students remain enrolled at Stanford and pay regular tuition along with an overseas fee, which is based on Stanford on-campus room and board rates. Regular financial aid applies and may be adjusted to cover additional costs. At many centers, students live in a homestay or a dormitory setting with local and other students.

Located on the ground floor of Sweet Hall, Overseas Studies has full-time staff members and student ambassadors to assist in advising and planning for overseas study. Course and program information, while accurate at the time of publication, is subject to change. Consult the BOSP (<http://bosp.stanford.edu>) website for updated information.

Locations

Courses offered by the Overseas Studies Program are listed on the Stanford Bulletin's (<http://explorecourses.stanford.edu>) ExploreCourses (<http://explorecourses.stanford.edu>) web site under subject codes beginning with OSP. Each BOSP location has its own subject code. Those subject codes, by location, are:
